

What's on your horizon?

“Adieu”

At what point in time
did I fall in love with you?
It wasn't at the beginning,
and this I know for true.

It was somewhere between then and now,
and to suddenly let go of you I'm asking how.

How do you forget the laughter shared,
and tears wept in each others arms?

How do I erase the 'I love you's' and care,
then try to ignore your wonderful charms?

So now I ask, at what point in time,
did I fall out of love with you?

Before I could never let go, but now,
painfully done, I bid you “Adieu”.
