

What's on your horizon?

Morgan

Chai

“Winter’s Song”

Winter’s Song, so long so cold,
a winter’s song of a season so bold.
Seasons pass on the melody of a winters song,
a haunting tune I’ve hummed for so long, oh Winter’s Song.

Winter’s Song winging through my reverie,
plucking your tune on the strings within me.
Words escape the harmony of this eerie song,
a haunting tune I’ve hummed for so long, oh Winter’s Song.

I catch myself drifting away,
carried upon the notes that confess a gentle sway.
Ancient melody on starscapes above and beyond,
a haunting tune I’ve hummed for so long, oh Winter’s Song.

© January 1985, All Rights Reserved, Morgan Chai